A: The windows version of Spotify client doesn't support MP3/FLAC file format. You can convert music from your mobile version to the desktop one. To Convert Spotify Music from desktop version to Mobile and vice versa: Go to play store and download Spotify APK. Install the desktop version of Spotify and login. Copy your music directory to /Music directory (In windows, it is D:/Music/) Go to the Music directory and copy the file to the Mobile version. Repeat for other directories. Now log out of Spotify and log in again. Please try this. I have tried this successfully. Synthesis of sugar-based vesicle formulation of citric acid. Citric acid is one of the most used food acidulants. It is used for pH control, softening, solubilization and the elimination of undesirable odors. However, citric acid is difficult to be combined with food additives due to its low solubility. To overcome this problem, citric acid has been formulated into micro/nano emulsions and vesicles by utilizing the unique structure of lipids. In this study, we report the formation of liposomes, using citric acid (CA) and stearic acid (SA) as model solutes. CA-SA vesicles were prepared by solvent evaporation method. The vesicles were characterized by TEM and AFM. Our data showed that the size of CA-SA vesicles was around 200-400 nm with a narrow size distribution. CA-SA vesicles were stable in the colloidal state over one month. The CA-SA vesicles were stable under various pH and temperature conditions. These results demonstrated that CA-SA vesicles were synthesized successfully and can be used for food products such as beverages and cakes.Q: AppleScript causing script to fail in application I'm trying to run an AppleScript and it is failing when running in the application.
